Evaporation Of Milk

The successful evaporation of milk and cream requires that the milk be produced under the best hygienic conditions and from the purest and most wholesome food.

Carnation Cream

(Sterilized)

is the product of healthy Pacific Coast cows, fed on selected pasture and ration, and milked in cleanly stables.
Consequently, we get a rich, pure milk, which is immediately

INCOME TAX FUNDS

House Bill 152, relating to coroner's Inquests, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Senate Bill 69, relating to private schools, passed third reading.

TO ENCOURAGE RAILROADS.

Senate Bill 51, exempting from taxes for ten years common carrier railroads on Hawaii, which may be constructed during the next two years, came up for second reading.

Woods moved to amend the bill so as to extend its operation to all the islands, and extending the period in which such railroads may be constructed to five years. Makekau wanted to make it three years. Woods pointed out that it would take about a year to get railroad material here. Chilling-worth said that the nature of the law passed would have much to do with the success of promoters in financing railroads. Dowsett said in that case the number of miles specified to be built within the time limit from five to fifteen miles. McCarthy said he had assisted in 1899 to vote for the O. R.
& L. Co. subsidy, and he would be glad to assist the building of railroads. Makekau's motion was lost. Woods' motion carried.

Woods added a section providing that no railroad operating at present should be exempt from taxation except as to extensions made hereafter. Dow-sett moved to make the law apply to common carrier railroad companies only and to such property as was used on the new line.

McCarthy said he did not see why corporations should be given privileges which an individual had not. Therefore he opposed Dowsett's amendment.
Dowsett answered that his amendment was intended to confine the exemption to the property which was used exclusively on the new road.

Smith further amended Woods' amendment by adding that property hereafter acquired for the exclusive use of new branches should also be exempt. Dowsett said that that would cover the intention of his amendment.
Dowsett's amendment was lost.
Smith's and Woods' amendments carried, and the bill passed second reading.

COUNTY MEASURES TABLED.

Senate Bill 77, providing that no appointive county officer shall receive more pay than the Treasurer of the county for which he was appointed, was tabled as was recommended by the Judiciary committee's report thereon. House Bill 25, providing for the payment of county employees doing manual labor weekly, was also queered by a similar report, and was tabled.

SENATE BILL 46, PROVIDING $1 A DAY pay for witnesses in criminal cases, was returned from the House, where it had passed third reading, but had been amended by making the amount 50c. Dowsett moved to concur in the amendment. Makekau said that here-before the government had done its best to take care of such witnesses.

Now if the 50c pay was given this could not be done. He moved to refer the bill to a conference committee. Chil-lingworth said that heretofore such witnesses had been paid from $1 to $3 a day by the Attorney General's Department. It was far better to have

FOREST PROTECTION

from going on Tantalus or on the Konoiki lands, to get shrubs and flowers. It only provides that they must have a permit to do so.

"This bill," he said, "is intended to protect the forests of Hawaii. It was not drafted by Senator Dowsett; it was drafted by a man the Territory pays $250 a month to look after the trees, Forester Hosmer."

Rawlins agreed with Kalelopu that the bill was too broad in its provisions in that it included "every shrub," and thought that should be cut out.

He also objected to the bill on another ground—that it would operate against telephone, telegraph and railway companies. The bill in general, he said, was a good one, and with a few amendments ought to pass. He moved that action be deferred for a week.

Kalelopu spoke again on the bill.
The measure, he said, was intended to protect Tantalus, which was all right, but why should it be made to apply to all the Territory just for the sake of protecting a part of the island of Oahu?

KANIHO AGAIN IN ACTION

Kaniho once more made himself heard in the House. Illness had made his voice less sonorous and ringing than usual, but everybody present knew when he was speaking.

He supported the motion to postpone indefinitely. The bill, he said, goes too far. According to its provivisions, even the scratching of the light on a tree would render the one who did it liable to punishment.

UNFAIR DISCRIMINATION
Cattle, said the gentleman from Kohala, can go on the land and injure the trees without being punished, but if a man does the same he is liable to punishment. Why should a cow be allowed to do a thing which a man may not do?

WAIWAIKOLE MAIDEN SPEECH Waikaloa took this bill as the subject for his maiden speech. He thought it the duty of the Legislature to look after the interests of those who live on the land, so that they should derive the benefit. "I do not think," he said, "that it is right not to look after the interests of those who own large tracts of land. I support the motion of the Hon. Mr. Rawlins to defer action for a week."

"Some of the members may think," said Pali, "that salting rotten meat makes it good. Our statute books are full of rotten laws now. We don't need to add another one. Let us nip this bill in the bud."

For the first time this session the usually smiling Pali became excited.
He fairly danced and pounded the desk like an old-time camp-meeting preacher, while his voice could have been heard in a stock exchange riot.

Whether it was his eloquence that convinced the House, or the arguments of the other speakers, the sentiment of the members was against the bill, and the motion to postpone indefinitely was carried.

SMITH'S BILL TABLED
The report of the Health and Police Committee, recommending the tabling of Senator Smith's Senate Bill 49, an act to establish the rights of inn-keepers and like persons with respect to baggage and property of guests, was the subject of a lively discussion.

Coney, chairman of the committee, did not concur in the report, and moved that it be tabled.

He said that Hawaii is trying to encourage tourists to come to Hawaii, but they would not come unless there were good hotels here, and good hotels could not exist without protection for the hotel keepers.
Such laws as the one proposed are in effect on the mainland, he said.

That was no reason, according to the way Pali looked at it, why Hawaii should have such laws. "We'd better wait until we are Americans," he said, "before we pass American laws."

Another member could not see how the bill would help the Hawaiians.

Coney replied that it was intended to affect Hawaiians, who do not patronize the hotels, very much, but was intended to protect hotel keepers against tourists who might try to beat them. His arguments, however, were unavailing and the bill was tabled.

A SOLEMN OCCASION
Sheldon introduced a bill this morning that is a wonder, at least in its wording. It is entitled "An Act to require the Supreme Court to render opinions to the Legislature and to the Governor," and reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the Territory to furnish, upon request, to either branch of the Legislature, and to the Governor, opinions in writing, upon important questions of law and upon solemn occasions."

COMMITTEE REPORTS
The Lands Committee reported on House Resolution 147, presented by Mahoe, asking $10,000 for extending and constructing Queen street to Sheridan street and $25,000 for extending School street from Kalihii street to Kamehameha IV road, and House Petition 37 from the Wm. Ke-hinui Land Settlement Association at Pepeekeo, Hilo, asking that the Government land of Kulaino in said district be laid out into lots for settlement purposes, recommending that they be tabled. The reports were adopted.

The Health and Police Committee reported on House Bill 136, introduced by Moanui, asking appropriation for the purpose of paying the claims of police officers of the County of Hawaii, recommending its passage. The report was adopted and the bill passed second reading and was made a special order of tomorrow.

House Bill 149, introduced by Ka-lelopu, providing for a medical inspector of public schools, was recommended for passage. Kaleo did not concur. The report was adopted and the bill passed second reading.

House Bill 122, introduced by Ala-ma, providing a medical inspector for each County of the Territory, was tabled, as the subject matter is covered in House Bill 149.

THIRD READING JOINT RESOLUTION
Third reading of House Joint Resolution 2, appointing five members, two from the Senate and three from the House, to investigate the ownership, condition and management of the landings and wharves of the Territory, to report at the next session of the Legislature, came up for third reading. On motion of Coney, the resolution was deferred for further consideration until tomorrow.
